(10) Read the passage and answer the questions below.

Rabies is caused by a virus which affects the brain. It can affect all warm-blooded animals, and can be passed to humans through a bite by an infected animal.

At first, victims experience pain on swallowing; later, they become terrified of water, the very sight of which can cause paralysis. The patient eventually dies in a coma.

Most countries in the world have rabies, and in some countries it is a serious problem. In Thailand, 100,000 people a year need treatment after animal bites. One country with no rabies is Briton, which has strict controls on the entry of animals from other countries. There are fears that a rabid animal could enter Britain through the Channel Tunnel.

People (and their pets) can be vaccinated against rabies, and there have been attempts to vaccinate wild animals by putting out food containing the vaccine.

Once rabies has developed, there is no cure, but there is a treatment for people who have just been bitten. This is very unpleasant and involves a course of 17 injections in the stomach wall.

(11) Read the passage and answer the questions.

Chief Minister Mufti Mohamed Sayeed's home town is famous for one particular item over which India's mastery is rather uncertain these days-the cricket bat. If the Indian batsmen are beleaguered in South Africa these days, units making bats in this south Kashmir town also face a grim future. For even as supply orders are pouring in from Meerut and Jalandar-based sports goods manufacturers, delivery dates are iffy because many units have been earmarked for demolition as part of Mufti's jehad against encroachments.

"My hands are full of orders. My unit's turnover could cross the Rs. 40 lakh mark," says Salroo Sports group's Nazir Ahmad. "But I'm now busy looking around for an alternative workplace as the authorities have marked part of my unit as illegal." This comes at a time when the multicore complex for sports goods built by Sheikh Abdullah in 1982 is still occupied by troops who were billeted there in 1991.

Last week, Gulam Hasan Sairo, president, Kashmir Sports Manufacturers Association led a delegation to the DC, Anantang to request that the complex be vacated. Spread over around 7 hectares, this facility for manufacturing bats had a seasoning plant for fresh willow clefts and could accommodate 32 units. But in 1982 only a few moved in, so the troops occupied the near-empty complex in 1991.

Later, Dr Farooq Abdullah decided to build another such complex in neighboring Halmul-the oldest manufacturing place for bats-as well as make the main complex functional, but he lost office before that could be done. Now the DC Anantang has promised that the troops will vacate the complex.

"We must have some place to work. After a long wait we have got something to do. We are panicky," said Gulam Mohamad of Sangam Sports. Against the orders for just 19,000 bats last year, this time he's booked 1,00,000.

Of the 129 bat-making units registered with the Industries Department, almost two-thirds are doing well, this year thanks to the World Cup hype. A similar trend has been seen in Jammu
