2. INTRODUCTION OF THE FACULTY OF ISLAMIC STUDIES AND ARABIC LANGUAGE

2.1 About the Faculty

The Faculty of Islamic Studies & Arabic Language (FIA) was established in 2005. It consists of two departments and a unit namely Department of Islamic Studies, Department of Arabic Language and Interdisciplinary Unit. The Faculty of Islamic Studies & Arabic Language offers undergraduate programmes in general and honours degrees in Islamic Studies & Arabic Language.

Our main goals are to:

1.3.1 Be Innovative in Undergraduate Teaching and Learning

1.3.2 Strengthen Research and Graduate Programmes

1.3.3 Enhance the employability of graduates through developing English language, IT skills, soft skills and promoting ethnic cohesion

1.3.4 Be a centre of excellence in the region for community and resource development

1.3.5 Capitalize on Globalization of Education

These goals are integrated with the outcomes of the SEUSL Corporate Plan. The Faculty plans to introduce a number of new initiatives to achieve the above objectives. The proposed new initiatives include: comprehensive curriculum revisions in all subjects; creating opportunities for enhancement of professional skills of students; efforts to increase research activities; increasing graduate enrolment and strengthening relationships with industries, local and foreign universities. The major concern during the next five-year period would be commencing Honours Degree programmes in other main subjects, join major degree programmes & postgraduate degree programmes and establishing a new academic unit to offer extension programmes.

2.1.1 Units

South Eastern University of Sri Lanka (SEUSL), initially known as South Eastern University College of Sri Lanka, was established to fulfill the dire needs of the students of the South-Eastern region, whose education was disrupted due to the civil war in the country. It commenced its activities as a University College in 1995 and continued to be uplifted as a full-fledged national university in 1996. Upon its inception as a state university, it had only two faculties: Faculty of Arts & Culture and Faculty of Management & Commerce. In subsequent years, the university has been able to develop itself through the establishment of four other faculties: Faculty of Applied Sciences, Faculty of Islamic Studies & Arabic Language, Faculty of Engineering, and Faculty of Technology. While celebrating its silver jubilee recently, the university has striven towards continuous development and has been able to raise itself to be at par with relevant standards required for a national university at all levels.

Faculty of Islamic Studies and Arabic Language has been successfully conducting 05 undergraduate Honours degree programmes along with Bachelor of Arts (General) degree programmes over the years. This is the first time that the Department of Islamic Studies and Deaprtment of Arabic Language, Faculty of Islamic Studies and Arabic Language, have taken an initiative to offer MPhil/PhD by research. The MPhil/PhD in Islamic Studies & Arabic Studies at the Faculty of Islamic Studies and Arabic Language, SEUSL, aims at offering a response to demand in this field by training students with MPhil/PhD.

The faculty of Islamic Studies & Arabic Language (FIA) was established in 2005 and has two (2) departments: the Department of Islamic Studies & the Department of Arabic Language. It offers the following study programmes:

    i. BA (General Degree) in Islamic Studies
    ii. BA (General Degree) in Arabic Language
    iii. BA (Hons.) in Islamic Thought & Civilization
    iv. BA (Hons.) in Islamic Banking & Finance
    v. BA (Hons.) in Islamic Law & Legislation
    vi. BA (Hons.) in Arabic Language & Literature
    vii. BA (Hons.) in Linguistics & Translation

The Faculty also has an Interdisciplinary Unit, which offers courses in six (6) minor fields of study for BA (General Degree):

    i. Accountancy & Finance
    ii. Education
    iii. English
    iv. Political Science
    v. Sociology
    vi. Computing

2.1.2 Postgraduate Unit

This MPhil/PhD programme aims to respond to a need in the global society for professionals in the field of Islamic Studies & Arabic Studies. These programmes are therefore open to both local and international students. The programme is strongly committed to training MPhils and PhDs capable of meeting the requirements to work in relevant private and government sectors. The MPhil/PhD in Islamic studies & Arabic Studies is, therefore, to prepare students to be able to begin and complete training, in theory, methodology, and research in the field, which are materialized and documented in an original and innovative thesis.

Graduate Profile for Bachelor of Arts (Islamic Studies)

The Bachelor of Islamic Studies program aims to equip students with a comprehensive understanding of Islamic principles, history, culture, and contemporary issues. Upon completing the program, graduates will possess a well-rounded set of knowledge, skills, and attitudes that will enable them to contribute positively to their communities and the wider global society. The following is a detailed graduate profile for the Bachelor of Islamic Studies:

1. Deep Understanding of Islamic Teachings: Graduates will have a profound knowledge of the Quran, Hadith (Prophetic traditions), Fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence), and Islamic theology. They will comprehend the fundamental principles and ethical values that underpin Islam, along with their relevance to modern-day challenges.

2. Critical Thinking and Analytical Skills: Graduates will be adept at critically analyzing Islamic texts and interpreting them in different contexts. They will be capable of applying critical thinking to address complex religious and social issues, fostering an inclusive and open-minded approach to problem-solving.

3. Cross-Cultural Competence: Students will have gained an appreciation for the diverse cultures and histories of Muslim communities worldwide. They will demonstrate cultural sensitivity and respect for different traditions within the Islamic world and beyond.

4. Interfaith Dialogue and Communication: Graduates will have honed their communication skills, enabling them to engage in constructive interfaith dialogue. They will promote mutual understanding, respect, and peaceful coexistence with people from different religious and cultural backgrounds.

5. Ethical and Moral Awareness: Students will internalize the ethical principles of Islam and develop a strong moral compass. They will be committed to ethical behavior, social justice, and serving the common good, both within their communities and on a global scale.

6. Research and Academic Writing Abilities: Graduates will be proficient in conducting scholarly research related to Islamic studies. They will be skilled in academic writing, enabling them to contribute to academic journals, books, and other publications.

Graduate Profile for BAHons in Islamic Thought and Civilization

A graduate profile for an Honors Degree in Islamic Thought and Civilization outlines the skills, knowledge, and attributes that students should acquire during their academic journey. This profile not only reflects the main academic competencies but also emphasizes the broader personal and intellectual development that a graduate should exhibit in this field. Here's a sample graduate profile for such a degree program:

Upon successful completion of the Honors Degree in Islamic Thought and Civilization, graduates will possess a well-rounded set of skills, knowledge, and values that equip them to excel in various professional and academic pursuits while contributing to a better understanding and appreciation of Islamic thought and civilization. Graduates will demonstrate the following;

1. Islamic Educator: Graduates can become teachers, lecturers, or educators in Islamic schools, seminaries, or other educational institutions, sharing their knowledge of Islamic thought and culture with students.
2. Religious Counselor: With additional training or certification, individuals can work as religious counselors, helping people with their spiritual and moral issues within an Islamic context.
3. Interfaith Dialogue Coordinator: They can work to promote understanding and cooperation among different religious groups by facilitating interfaith dialogues and initiatives.
4. Researcher or Writer: A strong understanding of Islamic thought can lead to careers in research or writing about Islam, whether for academic institutions, think tanks, or media outlets.
5. Museum or Cultural Institution Curator: Graduates can curate exhibitions or work in cultural institutions that focus on Islamic art, history, and civilization.

6. Humanitarian and Nonprofit Organizations: Some organizations work on humanitarian projects in predominantly Muslim countries, and a background in Islamic thought and culture can be beneficial in these contexts.

7. Government and Diplomacy: In roles such as diplomatic services or foreign affairs, individuals with knowledge of Islamic thought and civilization may be valuable for handling international relations with predominantly Muslim countries.

8. Community or Social Work: Working with Muslim communities to address social issues, provide support, and promote cultural understanding can be a fulfilling career path.

Graduate Profile for BAHons in Islamic Law & Legislation

Aligned with global educational practices and standards, it's clear that defining and integrating learning outcomes in higher education is crucial. To achieve this, the Islamic Law and Legislation Unit has proactively developed a graduate profile. This process entailed engaging with faculty members, students, alumni, and stakeholders, including community representatives. The ultimate goal of the programme is to equip graduates with a well-rounded understanding of both conventional and Islamic law, along with the skills and mindset necessary for impactful contributions to the legal field, society, and the nation.

Concurrently, the programme is committed to cultivating graduates who possess a dedication to continuous learning and a strong sense of duty in safeguarding the rule of Islamic law, and social justice. Within the Department of Islamic Studies, under the Islamic Law and Legislation Unit, our focus is on preparing graduates who:

Knowledge and Application: Upon completing the Islamic Law and Legislation course, graduates will possess a deep and comprehensive understanding of the following:

1. Specialized Legal Comprehension: Graduates will exhibit a specialized and contextually informed comprehension of essential legal principles, including significant concepts and reform processes in both conventional and Islamic law
2. Islamic Legal Framework: Graduates will have a profound knowledge of the foundational principles and sources of Islamic law, including the Quran, Hadith, Ijma, and Qiyas, and will be able to apply them to various legal scenarios.
3. Jurisprudential Schools: Graduates will be well-versed in the major Islamic jurisprudential schools (Madhabs) and their respective interpretations, enabling them to analyse legal issues from multiple perspectives.
4. Contemporary Legal Issues: Graduates will be equipped with the ability to apply Islamic legal principles to modern-day legal challenges and issues, demonstrating adaptability and relevance in diverse legal contexts.

Attitudes, Ethics, and Professionalism: Graduates of the Islamic Law and Legislation unit will exhibit the following attitudes, ethics, and professionalism:

5. Ethical Integrity: Graduates will demonstrate a commitment to ethical conduct and integrity in all legal matters, upholding the principles of justice, fairness, and honesty.
6. Cultural Sensitivity: Graduates will display a high degree of cultural sensitivity and respect for diverse perspectives, fostering inclusivity and harmony in legal practice.
7. Professional Responsibility: Graduates will uphold the highest standards of professionalism, embracing their roles as ethical practitioners of Islamic law and conventional law, and engaging in continuous self-improvement.

Research and Inquiry: Graduates will be adept in research and inquiry methodologies, including:

8. Advanced Proficiency in Legal Research: Graduates will showcase advanced proficiency in both conventional and Islamic legal research and analysis. They will be skilled in navigating extensive legal databases, accessing primary and secondary sources, and conducting comprehensive legal investigations.
9. Legal Analysis: Graduates will possess the ability to critically analyse complex legal issues. They will apply rigorous research methods, including in-depth examination of legal texts, precedents, and historical context. They will draw well-informed conclusions based on a deep understanding of Islamic legal principles, allowing them to provide sound legal advice and make informed decisions.
10. Effective Problem-Solving: Graduates will excel in identifying, investigating, and resolving legal problems by employing systematic research and inquiry techniques. They will approach legal challenges with creativity and precision, devising innovative solutions that align with Islamic legal principles while addressing contemporary issues and complexities.

Lifelong Learning: Graduates of the Islamic Law and Legislation course will be committed to continuous learning and self-improvement, demonstrating the following qualities:

11. Curiosity: Graduates will possess a deep-seated curiosity and a thirst for knowledge, actively seeking opportunities to expand their understanding of Islamic law and related subjects.
12. Adaptability: Graduates will embrace change and innovation in the field of Islamic law, readily adapting to evolving legal landscapes and emerging challenges.
13. Self-Reflection: Graduates will engage in regular self-assessment and reflection, identifying areas for improvement and taking proactive steps to enhance their legal knowledge and skills throughout their careers.

Information Literacy: Graduates will possess strong information literacy skills, enabling them to:

14. Evaluate Sources: Graduates will be proficient in assessing the credibility and relevance of legal sources, both traditional and contemporary, in order to make informed decisions.
15. Digital Competence: Graduates will be technologically adept, utilizing digital resources and tools for legal research and information retrieval.

Communication Skills and Interpersonal Skills: Graduates will excel in communication and interpersonal skills, including:

16. Effective Communication: Graduates will communicate complex legal concepts clearly and concisely, both in oral and written forms, making them effective advocates and advisors.
17. Collaboration: Graduates will work collaboratively with colleagues, clients, and stakeholders, demonstrating empathy, active listening, and conflict resolution skills.

The goal of the specialty area is to certify and train the Lecturers for teaching at the specialized bachelor's level at the Government and Private Schools and Universities both inside and outside of the nation. To motivate and advise to the Graduates in their future activities, they are anticipated to succeed in the following roles and possibilities in the future:

1. Teacher: Due to the candidate's proficiency in Arabic and its skills, as well as the potential in his or her area of specialty, the occupation is deemed appropriate for them. Teaching positions are available in Sri Lankan Government and Private schools, Arabic institutions and pre-schools devoted to the holy Quran. Access to Arabic language teaching opportunities that are available both nationally and worldwide is made possible by this.

2. Lecturer: The Graduates who excel in Arabic language have the chance to work as lecturers at Universities and departments focused on the Arabic language both in Sri Lanka and abroad. The Arabic language industry offers numerous career prospects. In general, those who have mastered the Arabic language are given the chance to find acceptable employment both domestically and abroad, particularly in educational institutions.

3. Office in charge: The office aids those who serve in foreign agencies as social coordinators, documenters and communication media officers, particularly in Arab countries. Due to the importance of Arabic language competence, better administration of human resource management operations, staff management, etc.

4. Media Person: The media sector is looking for individuals with similar high language abilities. For media organizations that work in multilingual environments, they may pursue careers as language editors, scriptwriters, content producers, or language consultants. Their linguistic ability will facilitate precise and interesting dialogue. Working in Arabic media and transmitting news from other nations to the media both benefit greatly from knowledge of the Arabic language. Understanding Arabic language is necessary to translate current political, economic and cultural challenges, particularly in the Middle East countries, into one's own language.

5. A Competent translator: The students are qualified to work as translators, converting written or auditory content from one language to another. Freelance work, translation services, and global corporations all present opportunities for intercultural awareness and communication.

6. Officers in the Embassy: Arabic language proficiency is considered to be a necessity for employment as office clerks and assistant accountants at the embassies in Arab countries. Documents in offices, newspapers, native language documents and notes in their countries must all be translated and organized into Arabic. The Graduates can use this to develop their personalities and expertise.

7. Secretary & Program Officer in Middle Eastern Countries: Leverage their linguistic knowledge, especially if they have focused on Middle Eastern languages, to pursue administrative positions in companies, organizations, or diplomatic missions operating in Middle Eastern countries. Their language skills and cultural understanding will be highly valued in facilitating effective communication.

8. Interpreter: Their knowledge of Arabic language and literature equips to students for the job of an interpreter. They can overcome language obstacles and promote intercultural communication at diplomatic gatherings, corporate conferences, and international events.

9. Tourist Guide: If they have specialized in languages relevant to popular tourist destinations, consider working as a tourist guide. Their language skills and cultural insights will enrich the experiences of travelers, offering them language support and a deeper understanding of local cultures.

10. Pursuing Postgraduate Degree at Foreign Universities: Their Arabic Language & Literature Bachelor's degree provides a strong foundation for further academic endeavors. To enhance their knowledge and increase their employment opportunities, think about earning a Master's or Ph.D. studies at international Universities with a focus on Language, Teaching Arabic Language, Literature and Literary Criticism or a comparable topic.

Graduate Profile for BAHons in Linguistics and Translation

As Graduates step into the world with their comprehensive linguistic and translation skills, they are well-equipped to embark on a diverse range of career paths. Their degree opens up numerous opportunities across various industries and academic pursuits. Here is a graduate profile to inspire and guide them in their future endeavors:

1. Teacher: their deep understanding of linguistics and translation makes them an excellent candidate for a career in education. As a language teacher, they can inspire and educate students in schools, University, or through private tutoring, helping them grasp the intricacies of language and effective communication.
2. Officer at a Government Institute: Their expertise in linguistics and translation is highly valued in government institutions. Consider positions within language planning departments, cultural exchange programs, or foreign affairs offices, where their language proficiency will play a pivotal role in fostering international relations and communication.
3. Media Person: The media industry seeks professionals with strong language skills like them. They can pursue roles such as language editor, scriptwriter, content creator, or language consultant for media outlets operating in multilingual contexts. Their linguistic proficiency will contribute to accurate and engaging communication.
4. Professional Translator: Consider specializing in a specific domain as a professional translator. Whether in legal, medical, technical, or literary translation, their attention to detail and cultural understanding will make them a sought-after expert, ensuring accurate and culturally appropriate translations.
5. Office Assistant in the Embassy: Embassies and consulates require staff who can handle language-related tasks, such as document translation, interpretation, and communication with foreign officials. Their expertise in linguistics and translation makes them an ideal candidate for such crucial roles.
6. Secretary & Program Officer in Middle Eastern Countries: Leverage their linguistic knowledge, especially if they have focused on Middle Eastern languages, to pursue administrative positions in companies, organizations, or diplomatic missions operating in Middle Eastern countries. Their language skills and cultural understanding will be highly valued in facilitating effective communication.

7. Interpreter: Their proficiency in linguistics and translation prepares them for the role of an interpreter. Whether in diplomatic settings, business conferences, or international events, they can bridge language barriers and facilitate communication between individuals and groups.

8. Tourist Guide: If they have specialized in languages relevant to popular tourist destinations, consider working as a tourist guide. Their language skills and cultural insights will enrich the experiences of travelers, offering them language support and a deeper understanding of local cultures.

9. Pursuing Postgraduate Degree at Foreign Universities: Their Bachelor's degree in linguistics and translation serves as an excellent foundation for further academic pursuits. Consider pursuing a Master's or Ph.D. degree at foreign universities, specializing in areas such as applied linguistics, translation studies, or related fields, to deepen their expertise and broaden their career prospects.

10. Content Writer: graduates possess a strong foundation in language proficiency, which makes them well-suited for roles as content writers. In this capacity, they create engaging and informative written material for various platforms such as websites, blogs, and publications. They leverage their understanding of language nuances and communication styles to produce content that resonates with diverse audiences. Content writers conduct research, develop original ideas, and ensure that their content is both accurate and compelling.

11. Editor: graduates can excel as editors, focusing on refining and proofreading content. Editors play a crucial role in ensuring that written material is error-free, coherent, and adheres to the desired style and tone. They review content for grammar, spelling, and punctuation errors, and they also refine the overall structure and flow of the text. Additionally, editors may collaborate with writers to enhance the clarity and effectiveness of the content, ensuring that it meets the highest standards of quality and professionalism.

12. Freelance Professional: Many linguistics and translation graduates work as freelancers, taking on various translation and language-related projects on a freelance basis, giving them flexibility and control over their work.

Course Aims:
This course aims to;
- proficiency in Industry-Standard Data Analysis Software
- advanced Skills in Dataset Handling and Visualization
- expertise in Predictive Modeling and Data-Driven Decision Making
Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;

- develop proficiency in using industry-standard data analysis software such as Excel, SPSS, Power BI, Tableau, etc.
- acquire advanced skills in navigating, manipulating, and visualizing complex datasets within these platforms.
- gain expertise in building predictive models using techniques like regression, decision trees, and machine learning algorithms.
- apply data-driven approaches to forecast trends, make predictions, and optimize business strategies.

Course Content:

1. Data preparation and cleaning:
   - Data collection
   - Data types
   - Data quality
   - Data wrangling
2. Statistical analysis:
   - Descriptive statistics
   - Inferential statistics
   - Regression analysis
   - Time series analysis

Course Aims:

This course aims to;
- discuss about the theoretical fundamentals of AI and how it affects users and organizations.

Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;
- analyze the approaches, techniques and tools to deploy Intelligent Systems in an organization
- adjust any AI-based system to improve how it exhibits intelligence in response to a real-world problematic.
- assess the potential and risks related to technological and ethical issues in AI.

Course Content:

1. Introduction to AI:
   - Definition, history, key concepts, the distinction between narrow

   AI and general AI.

2. Introduction to Programming for AI:
   - Basics of Python programming language, Data types, control structures, and functions, Introduction to popular AI libraries (e.g., NumPy, Pandas)

3. Theoretical Foundations of AI
   - Logic and reasoning, Probability and theory, optimization algorithm, learning theory

4. Impact of AI on Users and Organizations
   - Benefits of AI for users, Organizational impact of AI, Ethical considerations and societal impact of AI technologies.

5. Approaches for Deploying Intelligent Systems
   - Rule-based, machine Learning.

6. Techniques and Tools for Intelligent System Deployment
   - Data cleaning process

7. Advanced programming for AI:
   - Handling structured and unstructured data, Data cleaning, transformation, and normalization, implementing clustering algorithms (e.g., K-means, DBSCAN), Text preprocessing and feature engineering for NLP tasks, Building text classification models (e.g., sentiment analysis, spam detection)

8. Modifying AI-based Systems for Improved Intelligence

Course Aims:

This course aims to;
- enhance participants' proficiency in utilizing project
- applying techniques for optimizing project schedules through task prioritization, resource allocation, and critical path analysis.
- develop skills in managing budgets, tracking expenses, and allocating resources within project management systems,

Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;

- develop proficiency in utilizing project management software to create comprehensive project plans.
- apply techniques for task prioritization, resource allocation, and critical path analysis to optimize project schedules.
- gain skills in allocating resources, managing budgets, and tracking expenses within project management systems.
- analyze resource utilization reports and financial dashboards to ensure projects stay within allocated resources.
- learn to use project management systems for real-time monitoring of project milestones and deliverables.
- implement strategies to identify and address potential risks, deviations, and bottlenecks to keep projects on track.

Course Content:

1: Introduction to Project Management Systems
- Overview of Project Management and Its Importance
- Evolution of Project Management Software
- Types of Project Management Systems (Desktop vs. Cloud based)
- Selection Criteria and Considerations

2. Project Planning and Scheduling
- Creating Project Work Breakdown Structures (WBS)
- Task Dependencies and Gantt Chart Construction
- Resource Allocation and Levelling
- Critical Path Analysis and Resource Constraints

3. Communication and Collaboration Tools
- Utilizing Team Messaging and Discussion Boards
- File Sharing and Version Control
- Calendar and Event Management
- Task Assignments and Notifications

4. Resource Management and Budgeting
- Resource Allocation and Resource Leveling
- Budget Creation and Tracking
- Cost Estimation and Resource Optimization
- Earned Value Management (EVM) and Performance Metrics

5. Risk Management and Issue Tracking
- Identifying and Assessing Project Risks
- Risk Mitigation Strategies and Contingency Planning
- Issue Identification, Logging, and Resolution
- Change Management and Scope Control
- Custom Reports and Data Export

6. Integration with Other Tools and Software
- Integrating Project Management Systems with Office Suites (e.g., Microsoft Office)
- Compatibility with File Storage and Sharing Platforms (e.g., Dropbox, Google Drive)
- API Integration and Third-party Add-ons

Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;
- discuss about the cloud concepts, service models, deployment models, and architecture design.
- acquire skills in managing and optimizing cloud resources effectively, including compute instances, storage, networking, and databases.
- gain knowledge in cloud security, resource management, migration and integration, service orchestration and automation, as well as performance optimization.
- understand the governance, legal, and compliance considerations associated with cloud computing.

Course Content:

1. Introduction to Cloud Computing:
   - Introduction, Six-phase of computing, Layer of Cloud Computing, Types of Cloud Computing, Advantages and

2. Virtualization in Cloud Computing:
   - Virtualization, Types of virtualizations, Hypervisor, Virtual machine, Container, Container vs virtual machine.

3. Container:
   - Introduction to Containers, Docker Fundamentals, Container Orchestration with Kubernetes, Container Security and

9. Migrating into cloud:
   - Introduction to Cloud Migration, Assessing Cloud Readiness, Cloud Migration Methodologies, Security and Governance in Cloud Migration, Cost Optimization and Financial

10.Cloud Storage:
- Introduction to Cloud Storage, Cloud Storage Service Providers, Data Security and Compliance in Cloud Storage, Cloud Storage Performance Optimization.

11.Container Orchestration:
- Introduction to Container Orchestration, Introduction to Kubernetes, Kubernetes, Deploying Applications with 12.Cloud Hosting and Cloud monitoring:

- Introduction to Cloud Hosting, Cloud Hosting Providers and Services, Cloud Infrastructure as a Service (IaaS), Cloud Storage

Course Aims:
This Course aims to; - develop a comprehensive understanding of fundamental information security concepts, including confidentiality, integrity, availability, authentication, and authorization.
Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;

- apply security principles to assess and mitigate risks in various information system environments.
- conduct thorough risk assessments to identify vulnerabilities and potential threats to information systems.
- develop and implement risk mitigation strategies, including contingency planning, incident response, and disaster recovery.
- demonstrate legal and regulatory frameworks relevant to information system security (e.g., GDPR, HIPAA, ISO 27001).
- apply ethical principles in information system security practices, considering privacy, data protection, and ethical hacking techniques.

Course Content:

1. Introduction to Information System Security
   - Understanding the Importance of Information Security
   - Historical Perspective and Evolution of Information Security
   - Key Concepts: Confidentiality, Integrity, Availability (CIA Triad)
2. Threats and Vulnerabilities
   - Types of Cyber Threats (Malware, Phishing, DoS, DDoS, etc.)
   - Common Vulnerabilities in Information Systems
   - Social Engineering Attacks and Insider Threats
3. Security Policies and Procedures
   - Developing Information Security Policies and Guidelines
   - Access Control Policies and Role-based Access Control (RBAC)
   - Security Incident Response and Reporting Procedures
4. Security Architecture and Design
   - Security Models (Bell-LaPadula, Biba, Clark-Wilson, etc.)
   - Network Security Architecture (Firewalls, VPNs, IDS/IPS)
   - Secure System Design Principles and Security by Design
5. Cryptography and Encryption
   - Principles of Cryptography: Symmetric vs. Asymmetric Encryption
   - Public Key Infrastructure (PKI) and Digital Certificates
   - Cryptographic Protocols (TLS, SSL, IPsec)

6. Authentication and Authorization
   - Multi-factor Authentication (MFA)
   - Single Sign-On (SSO) and Federated Identity Management
   - Role-based Access Control (RBAC) and Least Privilege Principle
7. Security Assessment and Testing
   - Vulnerability Assessment and Penetration Testing
   - Security Audits and Compliance Testing
   - Security Tools and Techniques (Scanners, Sniffers, etc.)

Course Objectives:

This course aims to;
- develop a deep understanding of the concepts, principles, and architecture of Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems, including their role in streamlining business processes and enhancing organizational efficiency.
Intended Learning Outcomes:
At the end of this course, the student will be able to;
- gain practical skills in planning, implementing, and configuring erp systems within an organizational context, ensuring seamless integration with existing processes and technologies. - learn to analyze business processes and identify opportunities for improvement through the effective utilization of erp systems, resulting in enhanced productivity, cost reduction, and improved decision-making. - acquire the knowledge and skills required to administer and maintain an ERP system, including user management, system monitoring, troubleshooting, and implementing updates or enhancements.
Course Content:
1. Introduction to ERP Systems - Definition and Evolution of ERP Systems - Key Components and Modules of an ERP System - Benefits and Challenges of Implementing ERP - Role of ERP in Business Process Integration
2. ERP System Architecture and Infrastructure - Client-Server vs. Cloud-based Architectures - Database Management Systems (DBMS) in ERP - Hardware and Networking Considerations - Scalability and High Availability in ERP Systems
3. ERP Selection and Implementation - Needs Analysis and System Selection Criteria - Project Planning and Resource Allocation - Customization vs. Configuration of ERP Software - Change Management and User Training

4. Main ERP Modules - Financial Management (General Ledger, Accounts Payable, Accounts Receivable) - Human Resource Management (HRIS, Payroll, Employee Self-Service) - Supply Chain Management (Inventory, Order Management, Procurement) - Customer Relationship Management (CRM) Integration
5. Integration with External Systems - Integration with Customer Relationship Management (CRM) Software - Integration with Business Intelligence (BI) and Reporting Tools - Data Exchange with Third-Party Applications (e.g., E-commerce Platforms)
6. Business Process Reengineering with ERP - Analyzing Current Business Processes - Process Mapping and Identification of Gaps - Redesigning Processes for ERP Optimization - Performance Metrics and Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)
7. ERP Security and Access Control - User Authentication and Authorization - Role-Based Access Control (RBAC) - Security Policies and Data Encryption - Auditing and Monitoring in ERP Systems
8. ERP System Administration and Maintenance - User Management and Profile Configuration - System Monitoring and Performance Tuning - Backup and Recovery Strategies - Applying Updates, Patches, and Enhancements
9. ERP Implementation Case Studies - Analyzing Successful ERP Implementations in Various Industries - Lessons Learned and Best Practices - Examining Failed Implementations and Root Causes

10. Emerging Trends in ERP - Cloud-Based ERP Solutions - Mobile ERP and IoT Integration - AI and Machine Learning in ERP Systems

Teaching /Learning Methods:
- This course is taught primarily face-to-face with lectures, interactive discussions, demonstrations, group project, hands-on activities, and online resources.

Course Aims:
This course aims to; - give undergraduates a fundamental understanding of computers and operating systems.

Intended Learning Outcomes:
At the end of this course, the student will be able to; - equip students with essential knowledge and skills that are relevant in various aspects of their academic and professional pursuits. - become proficient in using computer hardware, software, and peripherals, which is essential for effective communication, research, and problem-solving in the digital age. - gain a comprehensive understanding of operating systems, enabling them to navigate different OS environments and use various tools and features effectively.
Course Content:

1- Introduction to personal computers (PC).
   - Overview of the basic components of personal computers. (CPU, Memory, storage devices, Input or output devices, Peripherals)
   - Data Representation in computers
2- Defines the term computer operating system (OS) and investigates its need in computer systems
   - Introduction to computer operating system
   - Evolution of OS
   - Main functions of an operating system (providing an interface, process management, resource management, security, and protection)
   - Classification of operating systems
3- Basics of operation system handling
   - User Account and password.
   - Introducing the user interface navigation.
   - Working with multiple files and folders and file management.
   - Application of installing new software and removal.
   - Basic troubleshooting skills.

- Backup and recovery

4- Explore how an operating system manages directories/ folders and files in computers.
- File types (need for file types)
- Directory and file organization (file hierarchy, file security)
- File security (passwords and access privileges)
- File storage management (contiguous allocation, linked allocation, indexed allocation)
- Defragmentation
- Maintenance of secondary of disk formatting

5- Explores how an operating system manages the resources
- Memory management (Memory management unit -MMU, physical memory, virtual memory)
- Input and output device management (device drivers, spooling)

- practical Application of Data Analysis Techniques

Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course students will be able to;
- identify and select the appropriate data analysis tool for a given task.
- collect, clean, and process data using data analysis tools.
- apply statistical methods to analyze data.
- use data visualization tools to create informative and engaging visualizations.
- communicate the results of their data analysis in a clear and concise manner.

Course Content:

1. Introduction to Data Analysis Tools
   - Understanding the Role of Data Analysis in Decision Making
   - Importance of Choosing the Right Tools
   - Microsoft Excel for Data Analysis
2. Basic Formulas and Functions
   - Data Visualization with Charts and Graphs
   - Pivot Tables for Summarizing Data
   - Advanced Excel Functions for Data Analysis
   - Python for Data Analysis
3. Introduction to Python and Jupiter Notebooks
   - Data Structures and Data Types in Python
   - Data Manipulation with Pandas Library
   - Data Visualization with Matplotlib and Seaborn
4. Introduction to Business Intelligence (BI) Platforms
   - Overview of BI Tools (QlikView, Looker, etc.)

Course Aims:

This course aims to;
- demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of data communication, including signal types (digital and analog), their properties (amplitude, frequency, etc.), and propagation speed.

- identify and analyze periodic analog signals, digital signals, transmission impairment, and network performance metrics such as bandwidth, throughput, latency, and jitter.

Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;
- explain the concepts of data communication, including signal types (digital and analog), and their properties (amplitude, frequency, etc.).
- analyze periodic analog signals, digital signals, transmission impairment, and network performance metrics like bandwidth, throughput, latency, and jitter.
- apply knowledge of data communication to solve practical networking problems.
- evaluate and compare different network performance metrics to optimize network performance.
- demonstrate proficiency in using networking tools and techniques to troubleshoot network issues.

Course Content:

1. Data communication
   - Components
   - Data representation
   - Data flow
2. Explores signals and their properties
   - Signal types (digital, analog)
   - Properties (amplitude, frequency, wavelength, phase)
   - Propagation speed in a media
3. Periodic analog signals
   - Sine wave
   - Phase
   - Wavelength
   - Time and frequency domains
   - Composite signals
   - Bandwidth

4. Digital signals
   - Bit rate
   - Bit length
   - Digital signal as a composite analog signal
   - Transmission of digital signals
5. Transmission impairment
   - Attenuation
   - Distortion
   - Noise
6. Performance
   - Bandwidth
   - Throughput
   - Latency (Delay)
   - Bandwidth-delay product
   - Jitter
7. Investigates the role of reference models to describe the network architecture
   - TCP/IP models
     - Application
     - Transport
     - Internet
     - Host to network
   - OSI model

   - Physical structures

- Network models
- Categories of networks (types)
- Network topologies
- Interconnection of networks: internetwork

9. Protocols and standards
   - Protocols
   - Standards
   - Standards organizations
   - Internet standards
10. Explore signal transmission media

Course Aims:

This Course Aims to;
  - understand the relational database design principles. familiar with the basic issues of transaction processing and concurrency control. familiar with database storage structures and access techniques.

Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;
  - define and explain the basic concepts of database systems, including data models, database design, and SQL.

- design and implement relational databases using a desktop DBMS such as Microsoft Access or MySQL.
- create and manage database tables, relationships, and constraints.
- Write and execute SQL queries to retrieve, insert, update, and delete data from databases.
- use database functions and expressions to perform complex data calculations.
- generate reports and dashboards from database data.
- secure and administer database systems.

Course Content:

1. Introduction to Databases
   - Definition and Importance of Databases
   - Types of Databases (Relational, NoSQL, etc.)
   - Database Management System (DBMS) Overview
2. Relational Database Fundamentals
   - Tables, Rows, and Columns
   - Primary Keys, Foreign Keys, and Relationships
   - Data Types and Constraints
3. Database Design and Normalization
   - Entity-Relationship Diagrams (ERDs)
   - Normal Forms (1NF, 2NF, 3NF)
   - Indexing and Optimization Techniques
4. Structured Query Language (SQL)
   - SELECT, INSERT, UPDATE, DELETE Statements
   - Joins, Subqueries, and Aggregation Functions
   - Views, Indexes, and Triggers
5. Database Administration
   - User Management and Permissions
   - Backup and Recovery Procedures
   - Monitoring and Performance Tuning
6. Data Modeling and Diagrams
   - Entity-Relationship Diagram (ERD) Creation
   - UML Diagrams for Database Design
   - Tools for Data Modeling (e.g., Lucidchart, ERDPlus)
7. Introduction to Desktop Database Software
   - Microsoft Access: Tables, Queries, Forms, and Reports
   - MySQL Workbench: GUI and Command-Line Interface
   - SQLite: Lightweight Embedded Database
8. Data Import and Export

Course Aims:

This course aims to;

- provide students with a comprehensive understanding of various research methodologies commonly used in social sciences and other fields.
- equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to design and conduct research studies effectively.
- foster critical thinking and analytical skills for evaluating research designs, methods, and findings.
- enable students to develop proficiency in data collection techniques, such as surveys, interviews, observations, and experiments.
- enhance students' ability to analyze and interpret research data using appropriate statistical and qualitative methods.

Intended Learning Outcomes:

At the end of this course, the student will be able to;

- demonstrate an understanding of the fundamental principles and concepts underlying research methodology, including research design, sampling techniques, and measurement.
- critically evaluate research studies in terms of their theoretical frameworks, methodological approaches, and validity.
- apply ethical principles and guidelines to the design, implementation, and dissemination of research projects.
- design research studies that address specific research questions or hypotheses, employing appropriate methodologies and techniques.
- implement data collection methods effectively, including selecting appropriate instruments, administering surveys or interviews, and managing data.
- analyze research data using relevant statistical or qualitative techniques, interpreting results and drawing appropriate conclusions.

Course Content:

1. Nature and significance of Research Methodology
   - Various kind & Research Methodology
   - Purpose of the Research
   - Sources of Data for Research Methodology
2. Qualities of a Good Research
   - Definition of Research
   - Stages in Research Process
3. Selection of a Research problem
   - Organizations Vs Individual Research
   - Developing the ideas through experience survey
   - Hypothesis
4. Analysis and Interpretation of data
5. Meaning and purpose of Research proposal / Report
6. Qualities of a Good Research Proposal / Report

- Planning of the Report
- Presentation of a Report
- Style in writing

9. EXAMINATION PROCEDURES

9.1 Conducting the Examination

The Written Examination (WE) of a course will be held at the end of semester when the course is offered. Continuous Assessments (CA) are conducted throughout the course in the semester.

The end-semester written examination shall be conducted by the Examination Branch. The date and time of examination shall be decided at the beginning of each semester by the Dean in consultation with the Heads of Departments and the approval of the Faculty Board.

9.2 Eligibility for Sitting Examination

9.2.1 Registration for a Degree and Courses:

A person who has registered in the University as an internal student for a particular degree can sit for relevant examinations. Students who fail to complete their intended degree at the end of the specified period should renew their registration to be eligible to re-sit for failed course at the next available opportunity.

A student can sit for the examination of course, which he or she registered it in a semester of the academic year.

9.2.2 Examination Entry Form

A student to sit for an examination should submit an application in the prescribed form within the stipulated period. The eligible students will be issued an admission card to sit for the particular examination.

Late application will not be entertined.

9.2.3 Attendance for Lectures

Eighty per-cent (80%) attendance is compulsory for both theory and practical sessions. A student, who has less than 80% attendance for a particular course, may not be allowed to sit for the end-semester written examination of that course. Such candidates will have to sit for that particular examination at the next available opportunity. Medical certificate for not attending the lecture sessions should be produced before commencement of study leave. Late submission of the medical certificate will not be entertained.

9.2.4 Sick during Academic Session

If a student who falls sick during the academic session, he/she or his/her guardian should inform it to the Registrar of the Faculty. This information should be confirmed within a period of two weeks with a valid medical supporting document.
If a student is unable to attend lectures continuously for 08 weeks in a semester, the student is deemed to be withdrawn from the particular academic year and need to commence his/her studies from the next academic year in which semester he/she stopped in the previous year.

9.2.5 Disciplinary Ground during Academic Session

Student who has been punished under disciplinary ground during the entire semester, he/she will be treated as a repeat candidate.

A student who is absent from the entire lecture for first semester of the academic programme without any information, he/she will be treated as a repeat candidate.

A student who is absent for more than one semester of the academic programme without any information, he/she will be treated as a repeat candidate for that period.

Note: - Above decisions subject to the availability of the stipulated period of study programme.

9.2.6 Postponement of the Study Programme

A registered student has provision to postpone his/her study programme by written request under valid medical or poverty endorsed by relevant Grama Sewaka (GS) & Divisional Secretary (DS) initially one year. The second request will be entertained upon the recommendation through the Faculty Board upon the Senate approval based on the availability of the stipulated period of the study programme. The minimum period for the postponement will be one year. If any special case, it will be decided case by case by the Faculty Board.

9.3 Repeat Candidates

9.3.1 The Candidate Missed the First Attempt

A student who does not appear for an end-semester written examination of a particular course at the first opportunity available without a valid medical certificate and/or the approval of the Faculty Board and the Senate, shall forfeit the chance of sitting as a fresh candidate and will have to sit as a repeat candidate at the next available opportunity.

9.3.2 The Candidate Missed the First Semester of the Academic Year

Student who hasn't required attendance for lecture programme of the first semester of the academic year due to the valid medical reasons, the candidate can sit the particular exam as a fresh candidate and can continue the second semester. The percentage of the attendance of the particular candidate decided by Faculty Board upon the recommendation of the Head of the Departments.

9.3.3 Sick during the Examination

If a student who falls sick during the examinations, he/she or his/her guardian should inform this to the faculty Registrar within a period of 48 hours in writing. This information should be confirmed with a valid medical supporting document within a period of two weeks from the last date of the particular semester examination. However, the Senate will take the final decision. If the Senate approves the medical certificate, the student has to sit for the course in the next immediately available examination.

This re-sit examination with the approval of the Faculty Board and the Senate shall be considered as the first attempt.

9.3.4 Maximum Repeating Time

A candidate cannot repeat an examination more than three times. A grace chance may be permitted with the approval of the Faculty Board and the Senate. But during the period of repeating the examination, student's registration should be valid.

9.3.5 Regulations pertaining to acceptance of Medical Certificate submitted by students.

Medical certificates issued by private hospitals of registered private practitioners could be considered by the University Medical Board.

9.3.5.2 Students who fall ill during semester or examination time should contact the University Medical Officer at the University Medical Board.

9.3.5.3 If a student falls sick at home or elsewhere during semester or examination time the student or his/ her guardian should inform the Dean of the respective Faculty within seven (07) days by tele-mail/ fax/ email or other means followed by a letter indicating the nature of the illness and the name of the doctor attending to illness. A medical certificate supporting the illness also should be sent to the Dean. If a student could not submit the medical certificate within 7 days, he/ she may appeal to the Faculty Board with a medical certificate within two weeks in case of a private medical certificate and within one month in case of a government medical certificate.

Upon receipt of the medical certificate(s), the Dean should follow the following procedures:

9.3.5.3.1 In case of a Western Medical Certificate is submitted
   a) The medical certificate should be referred to the University Medical Officer for his/ her observation and recommendation.
   b) The University Medical Officer if wishes may summon the student for examination and thereafter send his/ her observation and recommendation to the Dean.

c) In cases where the University Medical Officer wishes to convince the Western Medical Board he/ she may take arrangements to convince the Board and refer the recommendation of the Board to the Dean.

d) The Dean upon receipt of the recommendations, should forward it to the Faculty Board for ratification.

9.3.5.3.2 In case of an Ayurvedic Medical Certificate is submitted

e) Ayurvedic medical certificate submitted by student(s) should be circulated among the members of the Ayurvedic Medical Board for their observations by the AR/ SAR of the Faculty under the guidance of the Dean of the respective Faculty.

f) Each member of the Ayurvedic Medical Board may send his/ her observations and recommendations on the face of the medical certificate to the Dean of the respective Faculty through the AR/ SAR of the faculty.

g) In case where the opinions of the members of the Board vary, the AR/ SAR of the Faculty with the consultation of the Dean of the Faculty may convince a meeting of the Board.

h) The Board may examine the documentary evidence provided or may summon the students and examine the student concerned.

i) Recommendation of the Board should be sent to the Faculty Board through the Dean of the Faculty for ratification.

j) The originals of the medical certificates submitted should be kept in the files in the Faculty while copies of the certificates should be sent to the University Medical Office for the purpose of records.

9.4 Resitting for Examination

9.4.1 Opportunity to Resit

Any examination conducted by the Faculty will not be repeated. Therefore, a student may re-sit for the examination of a particular course only at the next available opportunity.

A student can re-sit for examination, ifhe/she has obtained an E grade for a particular course, or if he/she could not appear for the end semester examination of a particular course at the 1st available opportunity.

9.4.2 Improving Lower Grades

A student who has obtained C-, D+ or D for a particular course is advised to repeat it. However, if the grade obtained in the second sitting is less than that of the first sitting, he/she shall be entitled to his/her former grade. The maximum grade for a credit repeated shall be C or grade point 2.0.

A student, even with E grade may proceed to the following year of study. However, he/she should repeat that course at a subsequent examination.

9.4.3 Differently Able Students

The special needs students will be given 30 minutes extra time of total hours of the examination if prior approval is obtained from the Faculty Board and Senate based on the medical justification.

9.4.4 Releasing of Examination Results

When the results of the end-semester written examination of all the course of a particular semester are received by the Examination Branch, the Examination Branch will summon a Board of Examiners chaired by the Vice-Chancellor, Dean of the Faculty, Heads of Departments of the Faculty, all the Professors in the Faculty and Examiners of all the examinations conducted in that particular semester shall be the members of the Board of Examiners. The Board will release the overall performance of the students in that semester giving the GPA scored by the students and the overall GPA up to that Semester.

10. EVALUATION CRITERIA

10.1 End-semester Written Examination

A course is normally evaluated by two components: end-semester written examinations (WE) and continuous assessments (CA). Duration of a theory question paper for WE shall be 1-3 hours depending on the credit value of the course. The number of questions shall be 2 - 6 depending on the credits.

For one credit value courses, duration of a theory question paper for WE examination shall be 1 hour with answering all two questions as compulsory. For two credit value courses, duration of a theory question paper for WE examination shall be 2 hours and the candidate will be asked to answer all four questions as compulsory. For the courses having more than two credit values the duration of a theory question paper for WE shall be 3 hours and the candidate will be asked to answer five questions out of six questions of the paper.

The percentage of marks assigned for end-semester written examination for a course is defined 60%.

Note: Any Candidate who wishes to sit the examinations in Sinhala instead of Tamil, will be allowed with the recommendation of the Head of the Department and the approval of the Dean.

10.2 Continues Assessment (CA)

The continuous assessments (CA) component in a course normally carries a weightage of not less than 40% of the total marks except in dissertation and practical course etc. The continuous assessment of a student may be based on a specific combination including Laboratory works, tutorials, quizzes, presentations, open book examination, case studies, mid-semester examination, term papers, reflective papers, assignments etc.

The continuous assessments are held throughout the course of study and are not repeated. Therefore, regular attendance for lectures and practical sessions is very important. The Continuous assessment marks obtained during the season shall be counted for the repeat examinations as well.

Assessment is vital to the higher education process in Universities. It may also serve a formative and summative assessment. The formative assessment plays an important function to assess the students' competencies during the process of teaching, learning and training in which it refers to frequent, interactive assessments of student progress and understanding to identify learning needs and adjust teaching appropriately. The formative assessment approaches and techniques must be prepared to meet diverse students' needs through differentiation and adaptation of teaching to achieve intended learning outcomes. The principle of formative assessment is vital to ensure the students' outcome based on the intended learning outcome. The policy related to formative assessment is much more important to identify areas for improvement and to promote effective and constructive cultures of evaluation. Consistent practice of formative assessment based on the field of study may help the teachers to assess the students' performance in equal basis. This policy documents will guide the teachers to assess the students' performance periodically with greater equity of outcome, and improved learning to learn skills.

Policy Statement Formative Assessment must be:

- Aligned: Assessment activities are aligned with intended learning outcomes, University accreditation and relevant graduate attributes/profile. Assessment will fairly and reliably validate student attainment of these learning outcomes.
- Supportive: Assessment will support effective student learning & training and the transition to higher education.
- Guided: Feedback on assessment activities will be communicated to the students timely and informatively. This has to be done within three weeks of the submission date.
- Authentic: Assessment activities must reflect the circumstances and complexity of professional workplace environments which add authenticity to assessment.
- Criteria and standards-based: Assessment must be based on clearly established criteria and standards. These should be designed to sufficiently, fairly, validly and reliably measure student performance based on intended learning outcomes of the course and maintains academic standards.

- Quality Assured: Quality assurance processes must be applied to ensure the appropriateness and quality of assessment meets the standards required by the University.

- Maintained proper documentation: All the activities related to formative assessment at least for 02 years must be packed and kept under the custodian of department head. Each subject of study programme must have:

- Assessable activities developed to collect evidence of student attainment of intended learning outcomes. The logic of the assessment tasks will be explained to the students in the form of a rationale. This must be included in the course manual/guide.

- Standards developed by applying professional judgements about expected levels of student performance on assessment criteria. Standards will be benchmarked against acceptable levels of performance within the discipline and/or profession.

- Clear criteria and standards of performance must be developed for each assessment activities.

Assessment criteria should be aligned with the intended learning outcomes for the subject. This must be communicated to students on what is important and what they must do in an assessment activities. Responsibility of Academic Staff The subject in-charge is responsible for ensuring that assessment activities assess the intended learning outcomes of the subject. Benchmarking and peer review of assessment should be used to assess this alignment and ensure that the nature of the assessment elements and learning outcomes are up to date with current University assessment practice. The Subject in-charge must ensure that the timing and requirements for assessment tasks are clearly communicated to students in the course manual and through the Learning Management System (LMS). Standards and criteria should be described in a marking scheme, where relevant. The Subject in-charge must ensure that the number and nature of assessment tasks.

A course should include at least four (04) types of activities. A variety of assessment tasks should be used, taking into consideration student and staff workload. Feedback on assessment actively improve student learning by describing to students how to improve the quality of their work. Students should be told clearly when they will be receiving feedback on written assessment tasks. Academic staff should ensure that feedback on student work, either individually or in a group, provides enough detail to help students identify their strengths and areas for improvement, without discouraging self-reliance in learning and assessment.

Students Responsibility The formative assessment is designed to guide students through a comprehensive knowledge of theory and practice that will help students to understand the scope of the subjects at large. This offers the key to realizing tangible long term benefits from the investment they are making to earn their degree. While each assessment is design to guide the students in a systematic manner, it is their responsibility to complete the work and actively manage the activities.

The success hinges on:
- Active participation in and contribution to learning activities and timely completion of formative assessment.
- The continuous assessments which was conducted throughout the course of study will not repeated.

Therefore, regular attendance for lectures and practical sessions is very important. The students are requested to maintain consistent attendance (more than 80%). Late Policy Students are expected to submit all formative assessment on or before the specified deadline. To help prepare the world of work, all deadlines for formative assessment will be enforced. Only illness, personal emergency, or documented University activity will be accepted as excuses for not completing the tasks/activities on or before the designated deadline. Requests for extended deadlines should be submitted to the subject lecturer at least one week before the deadline, and documentation or verification of extending circumstances may be required. Academic Dishonesty Any instances of academic dishonesty can result in failure of the course and will be reported to the appropriate University authorities for further action (Please refer University Act.). Plagiarism is an offence under the University regulation on examination and assessment offences. It refers as the representation of another person's work as your own without acknowledging the source. The submission of formative assessment must be free from the plagiarism. Students are requested to do their tasks/activities as their own creation.

Grading Rule All of the elements relating to Grading Rules should be clearly addressed in the course manual. Marks cannot be given solely for attendance. The weightages of end semester examination and the formative assessment will be 60% and 40% respectively for the final evaluation of a course. A candidate should obtain a minimum of 24 marks or 40% in the end semester written examination and 16 marks or 40% in the formative assessments. The final marks for the formative assessment will be released to the students through head of the department before the final examination. The continuous assessment marks obtained during the session will be counted for the next sitting as fresh candidate. Types of Formative Assessment Formative assessment practice has greater impact on long term memory than re-study. Therefore, students should be provided with opportunities to apply skills and knowledge in different contexts and environments.

Formative assessment examples:

- Writing assignment
- Mid semester examination
- Quiz
- Debate
- Group/individual presentation
- Group project
- Case study
- Report submission
- Group discussion
- Practical examination

10.4 Scheme of Grading

The marks obtained for each course will be assigned a grade and a grade point. The range of marks is partitioned into sequence of suitable sub-ranges and the sub ranges are represented by the Grades. These Grades are assigned Grade Points according to the following scheme.

Marks Range	Grade	Grade Point
75 and above	A+	4.00
70 – 74	A	4.00
65 - 69	A-	3.70
60 - 64	B+	3.30

55 - 59	B	3.00
50 - 54	B-	2.70
45 - 49	C+	2.30
40 - 44	C	2.00
35 - 39	C-	1.70
30 - 34	D+	1.30
25 - 29	D	1.00
00 - 24	E	0.00

10.5 Calculation of GPA

GPA is the credit-weighted arithmetic mean of all the Grade Points (GP) obtained by a student for the course he/she offered for a particular academic year. This will be calculated to the second decimal place according to the following formula.

$$GPA = \frac{\sum_{i=1}^{N}(\text{Credit Value}(CVi)) \text{ X } (\text{Grade Point Obtained } (GPi)}{\sum_{i=1}^{N}(\text{Credit Value } (CV))}$$

Where, G_i is the GP of the ith course, N_i is the number of credits belonging to the ith course.

13.11 Career Guidance Unit

As part of educational reform proposals, Career Guidance has beenidentified as a priority since 1998; practically every university has started some activities in this regard.

Career Guidance Unit at main campus conducts career related programmes in the following focal areas: Counselling and advising on careers, employability skills enhancement, career-related information provision, networking with the industries, availing work experience, graduate placement, entrepreneurship skills development and conducting seminars, conferences, workshops, exhibitions, festivals, industry days, career fairs, out bound training, etc.

13.12 Field Trip

Students of FIA have a provision to organize field trips in their academic programme. The applications for the field trips should be submitted by a permanent academic staff member with the recommendation of the Head of the Department to the Academic Division within the first two weeks of the academic year for all the field trips intended during both the semesters of the respective academic year. Field trips should not be planned during study leave, examination period and semester vacations.

The proposal should be forwarded to the Vice Chancellor with the recommendation of Dean of the Faculty and Head of the Department respectively. The applications will be tabled at a special meeting of the Research and Development Committee for the evaluation and approval. The proposal should show relevancy to the course with proper justification, objective and outcome. The budgetary provisions will only be provided for fuel and for hiring a vehicle if the university vehicles are not available. The obtained budget or advances should be spent according to the financial regulations and the advances should be settled immediately after the field trip by the applicant. The report submitted by the student who participated in the field trip will be counted as a continuous assessment.

Any field trips organised must meet the requirements of the guidelines on field trips which was placed at the 91st Meeting of the Faculty Board held on 10th July 2017.
